

Article Link<http://www.bbc.com/news/business-42413639>

Partnership Schools for Liberia Study Featured in BBC Op-Ed

Last year, IPA published midline results for a study of Partnership Schools for Liberia (PSL), a program that outsources the management of certain schools in Liberia to private operators. In an op-ed for BBC, David Laws—a former education minister in the United Kingdom and an advisor to Liberia's government for the PSL project—reflects on the findings.

January 22, 2018