

Article Link

<http://www.voxeu.org/index.php?q=node/7573>

Constraints to growth in Sri Lanka and private enterprise development in low-income countries

"Christopher Woodruff talks to Viv Davies about his recent research in Sri Lanka that looks at the constraints to growth of micro-enterprises and how to generate job creation; he highlights the effects of wage subsidies, savings programmes, entrepreneurship training, firm registration and the transition from small informal firms to more dynamic enterprises."

March 23, 2012