

Financial Products Innovation Fund Report Released

IPA's U.S. Household Finance Initiative (USHFI) released a report on the Financial Products Innovation Fund, a competitive research fund supported by the Ford Foundation. The report details the seven products and product features piloted by the Fund, as well as information about the results and lessons learned. IPA shared the report with donors, implementing partners, and researchers.

August 29, 2014