The Life You Can Save chooses IPA as one of its 2016 top charities

Charity expert Peter Singer and his organization, The Life You Can Save, which focuses on giving to the most effective causes, included IPA as one of their “Best Charities of 2016.” Some of the reasons we stood out to them:

The quality of IPA's work stems from their emphasis on having experienced international and local staff, and on developing long-term, meaningful relationships with governments, NGOs and private supporters. IPA advocates and consults with decision-makers to direct resources to the most promising solutions. They also more broadly share their findings through consulting, conferences, papers, etc. so the impact of their insights is multiplied many times over.
