IPA Ghana Presents Malaria Text Message Reminders Case Study

On July 26th, Christine Papai, Deputy Country Director, shared a technical case study of the mal malaria text message reminders study at the USAID MEASURE / Ghana School of Public Health Impact Evaluation Workshop. The audience included 22 individuals who work in or intend to do impact evaluations. The group was rigorously selected from a pool of 150 and hailed from all over Africa (including Kenya, Nigeria, and Ghana).
