

Date

November 07, 2019

IPA Presents at Family Planning Results Dissemination Event

On November 7, Victor Pouliquen presented the results of a study evaluating the impacts of a two-and-a-half year mass media radio campaign that promoted modern contraception use in Burkina Faso. The event brought together policymakers, researchers, technical experts, and implementing organizations to foster conversations around the development and scaling of family planning interventions and the implications on policy and programming both locally and globally.

City

Ouagadougou

Country

Burkina Faso