IPA Presents at Virtual Conference on Social Protection in the Time of COVID-19

On October 5-6, IPA joined a virtual conference hosted by SocialProtection.org on “Turning the COVID-19 crisis into an opportunity: What’s next for social protection?” convening hundreds of social protection experts and practitioners for three days of sharing experiences, peer-to-peer learning, and discussions about creative solutions for inclusive public policies. Kate Glynn-Broderick, Associate Director of IPA's Financial Inclusion Program participated in a peer-to-peer clinic on digital payments on October 5, and IPA Social Protection Consultant, Rachel Strohm, joined a clinic on enrolling new beneficiaries on October 6.
