IPA's Right-Fit Evidence Unit Presents at Evidence & Implementation Summit 2023

Ben Tan, Director of IPA's Right-Fit Evidence Unit, has three presentations accepted for the leading global gathering, the Evidence and Implementation Summit, on October 9-11 in Melbourne (Australia) with online recordings accessible worldwide.

Presenting IPA's work on gathering and applying evidence in practice, Ben will speak as follows:

- “More insight for less measurement? Why ‘early outcomes’ are the sweet spot” (Tuesday, October 10 at 12:25 pm local time)
- “Testing and learning on the path to scale: finding the right fit at each stage” (Tuesday, October 10 at 3 pm local time)
- “Solving the ‘Generalizability Puzzle’ - adapting global ECD evidence to Mongolia” (Wednesday, October 11 at 11:15 am local time)

Ben's presentations will highlight cases from the portfolio of the Right-Fit Evidence Unit, showing the value of measuring, testing, and learning evidence adaptation activities in global development.
