

Authors
Lee Crawford

An Inside Look: Innovations for Poverty Action in Ghana

Ghana is home to one of IPA's largest country offices, managing a diverse set of research projects across agriculture, education, access to finance and health, and including a major scale-up initiative in partnership with the Ministry of Education.

Filmmaker Niyati Shah visited last year and made a set of short clips introducing who we are and some of the work that we are doing in Ghana. There are a couple more coming so watch this space.

January 04, 2011